Witness sobs, “I don’t want him to go to jail.”

Sobbing loudly, Amanda Young took the stand Friday in Lee Circuit Court. Called by the Commonwealth, she was to testify in the probation revocation hearing for her boyfriend, Beattyville businessman Jonah Ray Lucas.

Lucas, 35, was on conditional discharge after pleading guilty a couple of years ago for misdemeanor assault of his then wife, Alisha Lucas. He was facing a similar charge Friday for allegedly assaulting Young on September 14.

During other court proceedings, Young entered the courtroom crying. Judge Tom Jones and others looked to see who it was.

When the revocation hearing was called, Assistant Commonwealth’s Attorney Kristen Clouse called Young.

She at first sat next to Clouse at the prosecutor’s table, crying and her right leg quivering.

Called to testify, she could hardly take the oath.

Clouse asked Young about her relationship with Lucas.

“He’s my boyfriend,” she said.

Asked if they lived together on September 14, when there was an occasion for her to seek an emergency EPO against Lucas, Young said yes.

Clouse wanted to know why the order was sought.

Again crying, difficult to hear, Young said, “We had an argument.”

“I don’t want him to go to jail,” she said, almost blubbing.

“Did he hit you,” Clouse asked.

“It was mutual,” was the response.

“Did he ever throw you off the bed?”

“Yes.”

“Did he rip off you clothes.”

“Yes,” heard through loud sobs.

Clouse asked what started the argument.

Young said that, “Alisha told me she wanted full custody of her kids.”

Clouse asked Young if she had then taken out a warrant for fourth-degree assault a couple of days after the assault.

Young said she had because “they” had told her the EPO complaint had been too vague, but she did not know it was a warrant.

Clouse then asked her if she had said that Lucas had kicked her and pulled her hair.

She said yes.

Lucas’ attorney, William Trude, asked who is Alisha.

She said she was Lucas’ former wife.

Trude asked if she had talked with, or texted Alisha, and Young said that her sister had.

He then asked what that had to do with her filing a second complaint.

“I was coaxed into it,” Young said.

She said that Lee County Attorney Tom Hollon told her she could go to jail if she lied.

On re-direct, Clouse asked Young if anyone had threatened her to change her story.

“No,” she said.

Judge Jones said to Young that she had testified that Lucas had thrown her off the bed, had torn off her clothes, kicked her and pulled her hair – was that correct?

Still crying, she said yes.

“Did you immediately go to get the EPO,” Jones asked.

“Yes.”

She said her sister had told her to get the EPO, and her family told her to go back the second time.

Trude asked her if she had once told him that the incident had not happened.

“I just wanted it to go away. I’ve never been in trouble,” she said.

After Young was dismissed, Trude asked that Jones sentence his client to the 60 days already served. He said that an argument had apparently occurred, but there was no physical injury.

Clouse argued that domestic violence is “very serious,” and that Lucas’ action warranted revocation.

Jones said that Young clearly did not want to be in court, which made her testimony all the more believable.

He then asked if Lucas wanted to say anything.

“She (Young) just got mad. She thought I was talking to Alisha,” Lucas said.

He said he told here he wasn’t going to fight because he was on probation, and then he left.

“I never pulled her off the bed,” Lucas said.

Jones then said that the Commonwealth had met the burden of proof, and sentenced Lucas to 12 months.

“It doesn’t help you that she (Young) was for you,” the judge said.

Also in court Friday, defendant Steven D. Fugate, 44, asked why he couldn’t get diversion because many other people were getting it. He was in court charged with promoting contraband in the first degree.

Judge Jones told him that would be up to the Commonwealth if diversion might be offered.

Clouse, reviewing Fugate’s record, said it was 11 pages long, and included 20 charges. She said diversion would probably not be considered.

Jones then asked him if he was guilty or not, because he was about to enter a plea.

“In a way I guess I’m guilty, in a way I’m innocent,” Fugate said.

“I didn’t even know I was in jail until the next morning when I woke up and found the contraband on me,” he said.

The judge asked him about his taking a plea.

“She (Public Defender Sarah Bryant) told me to ... or get off the pot,” Fugate said.

“I did say that,” Bryant said. “He needed to plea or not.”

Somewhat taken aback by Fugate’s language, Jones said he was not allowed to cuss.

“I apologize,” Fugate said. “I didn’t mean no disrespect.”

“You can’t talk like that up here,” the judge said. He then said that he was not allowed to use such language in court, but that his golfing companions might have heard some salty language.

Fugate then asked if he could stay out of jail until after Christmas.

Clouse, after listening and observing the accused, said that it might be a good idea for Fugate to have a drug test.

“Ain’t no need for a drug test,” said Fugate. “I ain’t going to lie to you. I got marijuana in me.”

Jones, looking at the record, said this was Fugate’s second failed test, the first being on July 3.

He told Fugate that two failed tests normally warrant 60 days in jail. He also said that Fugate would be going to jail that day.

“The good news is December 19 is my last day (for Lee criminal rule day), and I could be visited by three spirits and let you out,” Jones said.

He then told the attorneys that he probably would temporarily release Fugate on that date.

Sentencing is January 16.

Jones made no mention of three spirits during the case of Michael D. Fox, 37.

Fox pled guilty to convicted felon in possession of a firearm and persistent felony offender in the second degree. The Commonwealth is recommending nine years.

Fox asked for the “hammer clause,” which adds time if the defendant does not return to custody after being let out before sentencing, or if a provision of release is violated.

Jones said he didn’t see where one extra year would be much of an incentive for Fox to stay on the straight and narrow.

“You could do that standing on your head,” Jones said.

Fox began crying when he entered his plea, and continued to be emotional during the process. He said he wanted to be with his family before he went to prison.

“It’s a long trip,” Fox said of the nine-year sentence.

“I’ll look at it Mr. Fox,” Jones said. “I’m not making any promises.”

He then called Fox and the attorneys before him to talk off the record.

Jason Reynolds, 34, had his diversion voided after admitting to charges in Powell County. He had previously been sentenced in a 2012 case for forgery and trafficking in a controlled substance. At that time, he was sentenced to three years, diverted for five years.

He now faces the three years.

Attorneys for accused murder Melvin Greg Slone, 56, said during a status hearing that they would need to hire an expert to testify on their client’s mental abilities. Another hearing is scheduled for January 16. Slone is accused of the April 11 shooting death of

Five indicted

The Lee County Grand Jury last Friday returned indictments against five people including two in one case.

Jay Shoemaker, 38 of Shoemaker Ridge Road, and Charles Creech, Jr., 45 of Creech Road are alleged on August 12 to have committed the crimes of theft by unlawful taking, criminal mischief in the third degree and criminal trespass in the second degree.

The indictment says that the two took truck batteries that belonged to Jimmy Cwik; that they damaged his trucks and they knowingly entered unlawfully his property.

Constable Jonathan Shuler was the witness before the grand jury.

Mark Kilburn, 51 of Judd Fork Road is charged with public intoxication with a controlled substance and promoting contraband in the first degree.

The indictment alleges that Kilburn had 17 Suboxone strips in his sock while in the Three Forks Regional Jail on October 21.

Lee County Sheriff Wendell Childers was the witness before the grand jury.

Daniel Smith, 27 of Slone Valley Road is charged with burglary in the second degree and second-degree persistent felony offender.

Smith is alleged to have entered the home of Nancy Shuler on October 27 with the intent to commit a crime.

Childers was the witness before the grand jury.

Geri Danielle Cornett, 29 of Lacy Cree, Campton, is charged with promoting contraband in the first degree.

Cornett is alleged on October 7 to have had Lortabs and Neurontin on her person in the Three Forks Regional Jail. Beattyville Police Capt. Stuart Morris was the witness before the grand jury.

Codell rep apologizes

Blanton Coates, project manager for Codell Construction, apologized Thursday evening to the Lee County School Board for including the wrong, and a higher amount for his company’s services in the renovation and expansion of Southside Elementary School.

“I come to you with apologies,” Coates said. “We never tried to slide anything by you.”

In early fall, Codell signed a contract with the school district to oversee the project for $165,000. At the board’s most recent meeting, the amount shown for the services was $204,021.

of Beattyville business-woman Martha Bell Hollar. He is also accused of setting fire to her mobile home.

A special prosecutor from the Office of the Kentucky Attorney General agreed to a three year sentence, probated for five years for Heriberto Ortiz, a 47-year-old caregiver who pled guilty to defrauding the Medicaid program. He must pay $42,115 in restitution, and will not be release from probation until the full amount is paid.

Ortiz worked as a caregiver for Rock Arch Refuge, a Lee County based company that provides Medicaid-funded services to disabled patients.

When he pled guilty on August 15, Ortiz admitted that from February 2013 until December 2013 he submitted false timesheets for services he did not perform.

The attorney general's office said in a press release that, “Ortiz’s conviction is the result of a broader investigation of Medicated-funded in-home caregiving companies located in Jessamine, Fayette and Lee counties.”

Judge Jones denied shock probation motions for 41-year-old Verda Moore and 40-year-old William Abner.

A bench warrant was issued for Matthew R. Hager, 28. The charge is receiving stolen property under $10,000.

A probation hearing for Ashely McIntosh, 31, is scheduled for December 19.

Tyler Moore, 20, entered an Alford Plea to wanton endangerment in the first degree. He was sentenced to five years, diverted for three years.

A bench warrant was issued for Richard A. Robinson, 27. A motion to set aside diversion had been filed.

Dear Editor

Dear editor,

Others could see what was coming in the McConnell victory over Alison and I was so filled with hope as I believed Kentucky voters would use good judgment. Kentucky Democrats seem reluctant and fearful to recognize that President Obama has done some remarkable things as he has tried to work with a congress that seeks to block his every move and to defame him.

Democrats seem to fear explaining they are not pro-abortion but are for giving a woman the right to make this decision. We also believe education, jobs, encouragement, and birth control can help reduce unwanted pregnancies. In the South we back away from Gay and Lesbian rights when in truth we should strongly urge that we should respect all God’s children and that God will be the judge of all, and that we are not the self appointed judges of others. Each individual has the right to make his or her decisions with life.

We have timidly mumbled about keeping Social Security strong as many Republicans want to privative it. If it hadn’t been for the vision and effort of Franklin Delano Roosevelt this program would not have been established. Who helped turn on the lights in rural America with the REA program? FDR. Who built many schools, roads, parks, and other worthy projects with the CCC and WPA? FDR. Who established the GI Bill of Rights that helped many veterans get an education and better opportunity? FDR. We have forgotten our history of caring for people. Crippled by polio FDR also helped focus attention on helping victims with recovery programs and the March of Dimes.

The last President to balance the budget was President Clinton. During his administration 22 million new jobs were created. President Johnson pushed through the Civil Rights, and voting acts in the 1960’s and Medicare in 1965 and the South bolted from the Democratic Party over the issue of race. Whether anybody cares or not, the middle class has just about been wiped out by income disparity as 10% of Americans own 90% of the wealth in the nation and their incomes SOAR and the majority of Americans income sinks. Democrats must stand strong and work with facts and not fiction.

I am a Southern Baptist and my favorite Religious leader at this time is Pope Francis. This week he made a great speech on the danger of greed. I urge everybody to read his wonderful and inspirational message. The question is, “Who cares?” The Koch Brothers and the Super Pac’s own politics as only one third of our people vote. But we can’t give up.

With that apology and explanation behind it, the board approved the state construction plan, called a

The total cost is $2,995,000.

Approval was also given to the first $16,000 payment to Codell. It is for pre-construction services.

Also during Thursday evening’s called meeting, the board approved the sale of bonds to cover the cost of the first phase of the project.

with David Blandford, M.D.

THE FUTURE OF CORNEAL TREATMENT?

Currently, when the clear outer lens on the front of the eye (cornea) needs to be replaced, the cornea of a donor is used to conduct a corneal transplant. One of the most common transplants performed, it is often recommended for patients with vision problems caused by a thinning cornea (usually due to keratoconus), scarring of the cornea (due to infection or injury), or vision loss caused by cloudiness of the cornea (usually due to Fuchs’ dystrophy). While current procedures call for harvesting donor tissue from deceased individuals, researchers were recently able to regrow human corneal tissue using adult-derived human stem cells. It is hoped that this may lead to the future use of stem cells in reversing corneal damage.

This extremely informative column has been brought to you as a public service. At KENTUCKY EYE INSTITUTE, you’ll be evaluated by one of our experienced vision correction counselors, about options that will best suit your needs. Let us help you with your vision. Whenever you need the services of an ophthalmologist, whether for prevention or treatment, come see us at 540 Jett Drive. Your eyesight is a precious possession and should be protected with periodic professional eye examinations. Please call 606.666.9393 to schedule an appointment. A different view By Betty Crabtree

I find it interesting to run references on scripture, and, yes, I'm still stuck on the Book of Ezekiel. In Chapter 33:30-32, it's recorded that when God spoke to the prophet Ezekiel (referring to the nation of Israel). He said, "So they come to you as people do, they sit before you as My people, and they hear your words, but they do not do them; for with their mouth they show much love. But their hearts pursue their own gain. Verse 32, "Indeed, you are to them as a very lovely song of one who has a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument; for they hear your words, but they do not do them (underlining is mine)."

It's written in another place that, "having ears to hear they hear not and having eyes to see they see not." Even if one is not a believer in Christ Jesus, I'm sure you're fond of the old saying true that says, "You could talk 'till you're blue in the face, and they still won't listen."

For instance, in the Book of Ecclesiastes 10:12, it says, "The words of a wise man's mouth are gracious, but the lips of a fool shall swallow him up." (Some people don't know when to shut up and they just keep on doing the same thing over and over expecting to get different results. Someone has said that's a form of insanity.)

In saying all that I'll close with a few verses from the Message Bible. Matthew 7, "The way to life – to God is vigorous and requires total attention." What is required is serious obedience – Doing what the Father wills.

Jesus said, "These words I speak are foundational words, words to build a life on." If you work these words into your life, you're like a smart carpenter who built his house on a solid rock. Rain poured down, the fiver flooded, a tornado hit – but nothing moved that house. It was fixed to the rock.

THANKSGIVING By Billy Davis

Someone has said it would be terrible to be thankful and have no one to thank.

Could that be the case for those who do not believe in God, or look to him, but yet have a feeling of thanks in their hearts. This would be especially true on Thanksgiving Day.

Voltaire said, "If God did not exist it would be necessary to invent him." That is a mouthful coming from Voltaire.

Remember the 10 lebers that Jesus healed? Only one came back to thank him.

I was just thinking, could it just have possibly been that the nine were in some way thankful, but did take the time or effort to return to him to give him thanks in person. I believe this is true of us in some cases.

Jesus' words were that only "one came back to thank him." The emphasis is on "coming back."

GOD

On the top of our list of being thankful to God and all his manifold blessing.

We are first of all so thankful that God makes himself so he can be found. "God is great, and therefore he will be sought. He is good and therefore he will be found." (John Jay)

"What is there in man so worthy of honor and reverence as this: that he is capable of contemplating something higher than his own reason, more sublime than the whole universe." (Jacobs)

Not only is he to be found, but want to comfort us and impart peace to us. He establishes a meaningful relationship.

BEAUTY

What thanks goes out every day for all the beautiful things God shares with us.

Who has not looked at the majestic mountains or witnessed a sunset who were not moved with their beauty?

God wants us to appreciate and enjoy life. Hannah Moore said, "How goodness heightens beauty."

HOPE

Our Sunday School teacher, Lorry Louise Ross, speaks about home almost every Sunday because she knows its importance. Life is "gone" without home. Here is what she has shared with us: H – Heavenly, O – Outlook, P – (of) Patient, E – Expectation.

Shakespeare said, "The miserable hath no other medicine, but only hope."

"Behold, the eye of the Lord is upon them that fear hi, upon them that hope in his mercy." (Psalms 33:18)

Have a safe and happy Thanksgiving.

Company proposes text changes to the definition of “Billing Period Credit” to clarify that such a credit is a kWh-denominated electricity credit only, not a monetary credit. Temporary and/or Seasonal Electric Service - Rider TS

Availability of Service:

Current: This rider is available at the option of the Customer where Customer’s business does not require permanent installation of Company’s facilities and is of such nature to require:

- only seasonal service or temporary service, including service provided for construction of residences or commercial buildings, and where in the judgment of Company the local and system electrical facility capacities are adequate to serve the load without impairment of service to other customers; or
- where Customer has need for temporary use of Company facilities and Company has facilities it is willing to provide.

This service is available for not less than one (1) month (approximately 30 days), but when service is used longer than one (1) month, any fraction of a month’s use will be prorated for billing purposes.

Proposed: This rider is available at the option of Company where:

- Customer’s business does not require permanent installation of Company’s facilities excluding service provided for construction of permanent delivery points for residences and commercial buildings, and is of such nature to require only seasonal service or temporary service; or
 - the service is over 50 kW, provided for construction purposes, and where in the judgment of Company the local and system electrical facility capacities are adequate to serve the load without impairment of service to other customers; or
 - where Customer has need for temporary intermittent use of Company facilities and Company has facilities it is willing to provide Customer for installation and operational testing of Customer’s equipment.
- This service is available for not less than one (1) month (approximately thirty (30) days), but when service is used longer than one (1) month, any fraction of a month’s use will be prorated for billing purposes. Where this service is provided under 2 or 3 above, Company will determine the term of service, which shall not exceed one (1) year.

Standard Rate for Low Emission Vehicle Service – Rate LEV
Basic Service Charge per Month:	$10.75
Energy Charge per kWh:
Off-Peak Hours	$0.05587
Intermediate Hours	$0.07763
Peak Hours	$0.14297

Proposed – This rate schedule is proposed to be eliminated. The Company will make all reasonable efforts to contact Rate LEV customers to advise them of their new rate options after the Commission approves the new rates but before they take effect (at which time Rate LEV will terminate). Because Rate RTOD-Energy is the new rate most similar to Rate LEV, the Company will automatically transfer to Rate RTOD-Energy all Rate LEV customers who have not responded to the Company’s outreach efforts by the effective date of the new rates; however, the Company will continue to make reasonable efforts to obtain those customers’ input even after the rate change.

Economic Development Rider – Rider EDR

Company proposes changes to Rider EDR’s Terms and Conditions to: (1) clarify the minimum demand required for the rider to be available to customer; (2) increase the range of certifications that can make a customer eligible for Rider EDR to include the Kentucky Business Investment Program (KBI), or the Kentucky Industrial Revitalization Act (KIRA), or the Kentucky Jobs Retention Act (KJRA), or other comparable programs approved by the Commonwealth of Kentucky; and (3) clarify that no credit under EDR will be calculated or applied to a customer’s billing in any billing month in which the customer’s metered load is less than the load required to be eligible for either Brownfield Development or Economic Development.

Where Customer is receiving service and desires relocation or change in facilities not supported by additional load, Customer is responsible for the cost of the relocation or change in facilities through a Non-Refundable Advance.

Terms and Conditions – Budget Payment Plan

Current:

Company’s Budget Payment Plan is available to any residential customer or general service customer. Under this plan, a customer may elect to pay, each billing period, a budgeted amount in lieu of billings for actual usage. A customer may enroll in the plan at any time.

Proposed:

Company’s Budget Payment Plan is available to any residential customer served under Residential Service Rate RS or any general service customer served under General Service Rate GS. If a residential customer, who is currently served under Residential Service Rate RS and is currently enrolled in the Budget Payment Plan, elects to take service under Residential Time-of-Day Energy Service Rate RTOD-Energy or Residential Time-of-Day Demand Service Rate RTOD-Demand, such customer would be removed from the Budget Payment Plan and restored to regular billing. Under this plan, a customer may elect to pay, each billing period, a budgeted amount in lieu of billings for actual usage. A customer may enroll in the plan at any time.

Kentucky Utilities Company also proposes to change the text of the following electric tariffs: Residential Service Rate RS, General Service Rate GS, All Electric School Rate AES, Time-of-Day Primary Service Rate TODP, Retail Transmission Service Rate RTS, Lighting Service Rate LS, Restricted Lighting Service Rate RLS, Special Charges, Curtailable Service Rider CSR10, Curtailable Service Rider CSR30, Net Metering Service Rate NMS, Supplemental or Standby Service Rider SS, Temporary and/or Seasonal Service Rider TS, Economic Development Rider, Low Emission Vehicle Service Rate LEV, Demand Side Management Cost Recovery Mechanism DSM, Environmental Cost Recovery Surcharge ECR, and the Terms and Conditions.

Complete copies of the proposed tariffs containing text changes and proposed rates may be obtained by contacting Edwin R. Staton, Kentucky Utilities Company at 220 West Main Street, Louisville, Kentucky, 502-627-4314, or visiting Kentucky Utilities Company’s website at www.lge-ku.com.

Organized by Pam Cornelius and Jana Durbin the program was set up to give student an idea of different career paths available to them after high school. Students were broken up in to groups of 20 or less, and they traveled from classroom to classroom visiting different experts in a multitude of careers.

Students were introduced to weather forecasting and other careers in weather by Melissa Nord from WLEX and Tony Edward from the Jackson Weather Station. Doctor Melissa D. Haddix, Nurse Practitioner Lindsey K. Barrett, and Medical Admission Assistant Francis Davis spoke to students about various career paths in the medical field. Teacher Jeanette Brandenburg spoke with students about the career of education. Tom Holton and Tom Jones spoke to students about careers in law and criminal justice. Adam

Dakota Ross, a senior at LCHS, said, “Even though the career that I am interested in was not represented, I feel that Career Day gave other students knowledge on careers that they may wish to pursue.”

On the move in E. Kentucky

Submitted by Lee County High School

On Friday November 21 Operation Unite and Unite Education Coordinator Mark Davis conducted a drug prevention program titled “On the Move in Eastern Kentucky” for the 7th and 10th grade students at Lee County High School and Lee County Middle School. Unite officials stated that the program began developing about three years ago and is now on the move. The program is designed to educate students on drug prevention.

“Drug Prevention On the Move” program is entirely interactive. Students are giving drug and alcohol prevention information while they answer questions electronically. Students also participate in test and simulation that replicate how driving under the influence would impair their judgment. One of the simulations has students riding a large tricycle through a set of orange cones while wearing goggles that simulate how vision can be impaired when under the influence. In another simulation student drive a go kart with a trigger remote that cause the kart to have a delayed reaction time giving students the sense of impaired driving.

Cody Wilson stated, “It was pretty cool. They showed us what it was like to drive under the influence from legal limit to drunk.” McKenzie Mays said, “It was fun. Driving the go kart around the track and cones was interesting. We got to use the drunk goggle and try to throw a soccer ball to our partner with our vision off.”

At the end of the program, students left with a greater understanding of how being under the influence can impair your judgment.

That's how many Kentuckians, on average, read each copy of a newspaper.

You see, one reads it, then passes it on.

Then another reads it and passes it on.

And so forth.

So if you're trying to reach Kentuckians, advertise in the newspaper.

Pass it on.
